DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

- 1. Renumbered claims 1-18 are allowed.
- 2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As per original independent claims one, five and six, the cited prior art, either singly or in combination, fails to anticipate or render obvious a means and method for calculating the distance between a feature parameter of an input voice and that of registered and unregistered speaker voices, whereby the determined speaker verification distance is included in a region defined by an input error rate within a probability distribution of a predetermined interspeaker distance.

Furui, "Cepstral Analysis Technique for Automatic Speaker Verification", teaches of techniques for recognizing speakers based upon time/distance elements obtained from an acoustical analysis of a speaker's utterance, wherein a threshold value is determined by comparing similarities between assigned templates and registered individuals. Itakura, "Minimum Prediction Residual Principle Applied to Speech Recognition", focuses on recognizing words respective of timed patterns. However, the cited prior art fails to explicitly address a method of verifying speakers respective of the aforementioned method wherein the distance between speaker parameters are analyzed, and verification is determined based upon defined regional error rates.
